Description

A set of pictures of the Afghan war inspired me to have this design.

People were suffering and isolating within those wire fences.

I was deeply touched by those sorrowful, grievous, fearful and yet helpless eyes behind.

No one on earth could desire more to be showering under the freedom and equality's hands.

Wish those wire fences would turn to flying doves and bring peace to human being instead.

Materials

18K white gold and diamonds
